Circular Materials Conference

September 14-15 2022
Wood Hotel, Skellefteå
Sweden

The leading Nordic forum for industrial, scientific and commercial progress in circular use of materials

Exchange and share experiences

Nordic Publishing in cooperation with research institutes, academia, and organisations from the basic, chemical, recycling industries are proud to invite you to the 6th Circular Materials Conference on September 14-15, 2022, at the Wood Hotel in Skellefteå, Sweden.

The way we use our materials today will define the world we inhabit in the future. The conference provides opportunities to reimagine materials with the help of emerging technologies and novel collaborations to create a circular future together.

Furthermore, the 6th Circular Materials Conference brings together leaders from the industry and academia to explore stunning circular economy solutions, novel business models and visions of a world where no materials are wasted. The particular focus of this year will be on new partnerships and technologies that can speed up the transition while bringing about a more caring and truly sustainable economy for all.

Focusing on industrial, scientific and commercial advances in circular materials, the event will feature keynote speeches, seminars, site visits and solutions exhibition, as well as debate, face-to-face meetings and networking.
